Sunday Sermons

7/14, TODAY, 11: 00am – “Children in Cages”

Rev. Dr. Stephen Butler Murray, Minister

The humanitarian crisis at the American southern border is becoming an increasingly horrific situation. As families seek asylum in the United States, their children are separated from them, kept in deplorable conditions, sometimes shipped away to entire other parts of the country, with no system for how to reunite them. Today, we will focus on this issue and how we, as a faith community, might step into the fray in addressing this situation as part of our focus on immigration issues.

7/21 11:00am – “On Faith and Science”

Rev. Dr. Stephen Butler Murray, Minister

I want to take on the often-utilized false dichotomy of religion and science, which creates the impression that people of faith, by practice, reject science and that scientists, by virtue of their worldview, must eschew faith. To quote Shakespeare's Hamlet, "There are more things in heaven and earth...Than are dreamt of in your philosophy."

AID FOR THE HOMELESS GUIDELINES: Our church and our principles require that we provide aid, comfort and sanctuary to those in need whenever and wherever possible. However, given our limited resources, we must consider what we as a church can realistically do to support the homeless when they enter our church.

In June the Board accepted guidelines and a referral list which is now posted in the Narthex and office. These are also in the August newsletter. Please become familiar with the guidelines so all members can aid those in need.
