"Intro to UU Detroit" - today in the Parlor - offers introductory information on what the Church is about. There are two objectives: one is to share information on the Unitarian Universalist tradition as a whole, and a second goal is to focus specifically on the history and traditions of UU Detroit. Please do attend: we are proud of who we are, and we want you to be proud to be with us! For more information, feel free to contact Sally Borden at sally233@sbcglobal.net.

GETTING TO KNOW OUR IMMIGRANT NEIGHBORS: Just a few blocks away, Sam Dhaifullah works at La Palma (Mediterranean restaurant). He has reached out and wants to share his story. Worship and Social Justice invite you to a talk with Q&A after church on Sunday June 17.

Sunday Sermons and Events

TODAY, 6/10 11:00AM – Reconciling Poverty, Economic Development, and Gentrification in Detroit

Kevin Ketels, Guest Speaker

How can we balance the competing interests of a city in which many residents have little practical access to opportunity within the context of substantial, yet uneven economic investment? Detroit is a city whose history is rich with contrast in both invention and oppression. While the national narrative speaks kindly to our recent efforts, the benefits are as elusive as ever for those outside downtown and midtown. The obstacles are significant, but the goal is achievable with community planning and public/private investments that build bridges for the marginalized to free themselves from poverty.

Kevin Ketels is a part-time faculty member in marketing and global supply chain management. He is president and founder of Kyrris Marketing (2015), a strategic marketing and communications agency in Detroit, Michigan, that serves clients nationally in the healthcare, manufacturing, consumer retail, education and government sectors.

6/17 11:00AM -- How the Underground Railroad Changed America

Evelyn Millstein, Guest Speaker

In honor of Juneteenth, Evelyn Millstein will speak on The Underground Railroad as one of the most remarkable movements in American history. It was the first and only bi-racial movement led by African Americans. It was also the greatest mass civil disobedience movement America ever experienced. It began with the passage of the U.S. Constitution in 1778 and continued non-stop for over 70 years until 1861, when the Civil War began; the Underground Railroad in the South became a military branch of the Union army and thus helped end slavery.
